Special to The Constitution.
NASHVILLE, March 19.—Judge Lochrane, the general counsel of the Pullman company, appeared before the committee of finance this evening and made a very able and exhaustive argument against the constitutionality of the tax on Pullman business in this state. The result, we learned from some of the committee, will be a great reduction on the present tax.

THE SENTENCE OF STEVENSON.
LAWRENCEVILLE, March 19.—In my brief local from this place to your paper in the Sunday's issue there occurred a mistake in that it stated that Elbert Stevenson would be hanged on the 4th day of May. It is a very unusual event I hasten to make a correction. The sentence of the court was as follows: "The State vs. Elbert M. Stevenson, indicted for murder and verdict of guilty, in Winnett superior court, March 18th, 1883. Whereupon it is considered and adjudged by the court that the said Elbert M. Stevenson be taken from the bar of this court to the common jail of this county where he shall be kept until May 1st, 1883, in the present year, when he shall be taken to the gallows to be provided for by the ordinary of this county, within one mile of the jail of this county, where he shall be publicly executed between the hours of 10 a. m. and 2 p. m., on said day, by the sheriff of said county, by hanging him by the neck until he be dead, and may God Almighty have mercy on his soul." In reply to the court's inquiry, whether he had anything to say way sentence of death should not be pronounced upon him according to law, he simply replied without a quiver of emotion, "I don't think it just."

THE MAYOR OF COLUMBUS.
DAWSON, March 19.—On Friday night, two negroes were attending church at the First Methodist church, when a disturbance occurred. One of the negroes, named Wesley Yancey, shot the other, Arthur Weston, the pistol ball penetrating his skull and producing death in a few minutes. Yancey is under arrest, and asserts that the killing was accidental.

THE LOST CHILD.

A FATE WORSE THAN ABDUCTION.

How Parents, by a Lack of Precaution and Care, are Responsible for the Death of Their Children.

From the Camden, Me., Herald.

The moral and legal responsibility of parents in the care of their children is, fortunately, attracting the serious attention of the better portion of the entire country. The many instances of child beating, oppression, and other forms of cruelty which have come to light, demand that something be done, and it is gratifying to know that the people are becoming thoroughly aroused. Whether the cruelty be in the form of physical violence or physical neglect matters not—the principle in both cases is the same. The man or woman who neglects his or her own health may be pardoned, as the consequences fall upon the individual alone; but the parent or guardian who permits the inroads of disease upon the innocent ones dependent upon him, for protection, is criminally liable in the sight of God, however he may appear in the eyes of men. There are, however, parents that intend to care for their children, but, through carelessness or other agency of innocent duties of disease. Such parents may be guilty of intentional wrong, but the disastrous results upon their children are just as great.

These are truths which must be manifest to every worthy parent and especially in a vicinity where the unknown effects of the atmosphere, the water and the general tendency to malaria are so great. There are many families in this vicinity who have called upon to mourn untimely losses, even when the greatest care was exercised; but the experience of one only will be given: It is that of the late W. O. Thomas. The children were all most promising, but for some unexpected reason their health and strength seemed to gradually lessen until their friends feared they were the victims of consumption. One by one, they sickened and died until three had departed and two of the surviving brothers were also ill. Their names were Edward and Herman. Herman, however, seemed the stronger of the two; and while his younger brother was confined to the house constantly, and to his bed much of the time, Herman was able to be about but in so weak a condition that he could not desire to play. Eddie's symptoms were terrible. He found difficulty in retaining food upon his stomach, was restless and irritable, and out of his bed frequently. At various times three different physicians were called; and each one told his friends he could not live. He finally got so low that death was only considered a matter of a few days. At that critical time his elder brother, aroused almost to the pitch of desperation by the dear death of his brother, took the matter into his own hands, and started them in the face, resolved to take the case into their own hands. They accordingly did so, and secured a remedy that was then being universally used, and began giving it to him. His effect was striking, but any improvement was considered a good symptom. By degrees his strength returned; he was able to eat with a relish, then walk about the house; and finally he regained complete health and strength. The boy was surprised by the editor of this paper, he went before Justice Charles K. Miller and made oath to the facts of his sickness as above related, and that he was restored to health by the use of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure.

Now, Edward Thomas's parents, while they lived, undoubtedly, provided faithfully for the wants of all their children; and yet the seeds of disease had taken deep root. Their care in one direction had been counteracted by unknown carelessness in another. Their love was sincere, but wholly misdirected. They should have known that children are just as liable to kidney and liver diseases as grown up people; and that the fatality of Bright's disease of the kidneys is just as great among little children as with adults. This is a serious subject. Hereditary traits; the after consequences of disease; colds, fever, diphtheria and the passing troubles which so easily become chronic, all demand the greatest care and caution. No case of cholera infantum, measles, scarletina, or diphtheria was ever cured without the kidneys and liver were healthy. It would simply be an impossibility. These important organs of the body are just forming within the child and growing with its growth; and they can be trained to strength and health as readily as the little mind can be trained to truth and uprightness.

The importance of carefully watching the slightest troubles of the child, and especially those affecting the kidneys and liver, cannot be too strongly emphasized. The boy responded so readily to the proper remedies and was so sensitive to disease, that it is a sin to deprive them of one at the risk of incurring the other. By a judicious treatment these essential organs can be developed, and the seeds of disease through coming years, shall be the result.

ST. SIMON'S ISLAND.

Under Wesley's Tree—A Bulled Church—One of the best of the kind in the South.

Brunswick, March 16.—In the morning of a calm and lovely day and under a sky as bright as ever beamed over Italy the beautiful, accompanied by several gentlemen, among them a correspondent of the New York Herald, and a government official, that very ubiquitous gentleman who has often been reported to be in Washington, Atlanta, and Brunswick at one and the same moment of time, we started for St. Simon's Island. Captain Dart, whose courtesies placed the entire party under obligations, and made headway for St. Simon's. Landing on the island our first movement was to visit the vast wall of masonry, with admiration for the variety and adaptability of the machinery for its purpose and with the ease and rapidity with which they were cutting and turning out daily one hundred thousand feet of lumber. I entered this building with the air and mien of a thorough business man, in quite a statistical and developmental mood, with notebook and pencil in hand, prepared as I thought, to write down therein all the facts I could learn concerning the architectural exhibition of the unfading of our great southern resources; but the noise and confusion, the whizzing and buzzing, the ripping and turning of great piles of lumber to and fro, and the floating back and forth swiftly as a weaver's shuttle, quickly dispelled all my practical and business like intents and inspired me, I must with candor confess, with a lively solicitude for my personal safety. This feeling was somewhat intensified, when, after cautiously threading my way through a narrow aisle, beset with dangers on both sides, I arrived at the further extremity of the mill. Here, to my astonishment, I discovered a great chain, about a foot and a half wide, in perpetual revolution, extending away out at a considerable distance from the main building and into a very singular looking structure, open at the top, and surrounding a deep pit.

A CHURCH OF "HELL."

To my inquiry as to what it meant, I received in reply that it was what was called a slab chain—bearing on its surface the slabs and refused lumber, emptying into the pit below to be consumed, where for that purpose it had been ignited some years ago. That the fire had not at no time been extinguished but was unceasing and never ending, and they called the place "hell." I could stand things here no longer, but crying out in the more euphuistic term of the revised edition, "Oh! gosh, and describing a straight line with the precision of a geometrical I sallied forth into the open air and into scenes more congenial to my tastes.

THE HOUSE OF "HELL."

Here I saw for the first time, an entire vil-

Buffalo Lithia Water

TAKES THE PLACE OF THE SURGEON'S KNIFE IN STONE OF THE BLADDER.

ITS VALUE IN BRIGHT'S DISEASE, THE GOUTY DIATHESIS, ETC.

Dr. Wm. A. Hammond, of New York, Surgeon General U. S. Army (retired), Professor of Diseases of the Mind and Nervous System in the University of New York, etc.

"I have for some time made use of the Buffalo Lithia Water in cases of affections of the Nervous System, complicated with Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, or with a Gouty Diathesis. The results have been entirely satisfactory. Lithia has for many years been a favorite remedy with me in like cases, but the Buffalo Lithia certainly acts better than any other preparation of Lithia Salts, and is, moreover, better borne by the stomach."

Stone in the Bladder (Uric Acid), Symptoms of Bright's Disease.

Case of Mrs. M. M. M., of New York, who was afflicted with Bright's Disease, followed after some time by Stone in the Bladder. Her limbs were very emaciated, so much so, as to pit pail on pressure with the finger, leaving an indentation, long after its removal. The urine was loaded with Uric Acid, and the kidneys were very inflamed. Having exhausted all the remedies, she was advised to use the Buffalo Lithia Water, and in a few weeks, in the passage of a stone, she was cured. The stone was removed, and the patient is now perfectly well. The Buffalo Lithia Water is a most valuable remedy in all cases of Bright's Disease, and is, moreover, better borne by the stomach."

Stone in the Bladder, Phosphatic.

A Case stated by Dr. S. B. Hardy, Hooker, Greene Co., N. C.

"My son, a young man, suffered from Stone in the Bladder, of a mixed character, consisting chiefly of Calcium Carbonate and Phosphate. After persistent use of all remedies indicated in the case without benefit, I put him upon Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No. 2, the use of which, for some six weeks, resulted in the passage, at short intervals, of gravel, of small size, and at times of particles of sand, followed, some time afterwards, by the discharge of a stone weighing twelve grains (the largest I am confident I ever knew to pass through the Urethra), virtually ending his troubles, since which time any unusual symptoms have been relieved by the use of the water for a short time. Its action in this case has been indeed wonderful."

Uric Acid Gravel.

A Case stated by Dr. H. H. Walker, of Georgetown, S. C.

"Mr. George C. Congdon, of this place, suffering from Uric Acid Gravel, has been under my treatment for some time past. He had as many as six separate attacks (all of them of very great severity), between June the 25th and July the 16th, a space of eighteen days. He declined in flesh and strength rapidly, and to such an extent as to require the most careful nursing. Having exhausted all the most approved remedies of Materia Medica without beneficial results, I prescribed for him, as a last resort, Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No. 2, with the happiest effects. In a very short time after beginning its use, he passed a Calculus of Uric Acid, weighing six grains in weight, and has since, and is now, all appearance, entirely well."

Water in cases of one dozen half gallon bottles, $5.00 per case at the springs. New edition of springs pamphlet sent to any address.

Proprietor Buffalo Lithia Springs, Virginia.

If the bowels are not regular, the liver, which is the seat of the bile, cannot do its duty, and the system is deranged. Dr. Hodge's Female Tonic is a perfect remedy for all these troubles, and is a most valuable medicine. It is a food for the young and the old, and is a never-failing iron tonic and blood purifier. $1.00. Sold everywhere. Family Bibles and Bibles sent to any address. A. F. The urine was loaded with Uric Acid, and the kidneys were very inflamed. Having exhausted all the remedies, she was advised to use the Buffalo Lithia Water, and in a few weeks, in the passage of a stone, she was cured. The stone was removed, and the patient is now perfectly well. The Buffalo Lithia Water is a most valuable remedy in all cases of Bright's Disease, and is, moreover, better borne by the stomach."

Stone in the Bladder, Phosphatic.

A Case stated by Dr. S. B. Hardy, Hooker, Greene Co., N. C.

"My son, a young man, suffered from Stone in the Bladder, of a mixed character, consisting chiefly of Calcium Carbonate and Phosphate. After persistent use of all remedies indicated in the case without benefit, I put him upon Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No. 2, the use of which, for some six weeks, resulted in the passage, at short intervals, of gravel, of small size, and at times of particles of sand, followed, some time afterwards, by the discharge of a stone weighing twelve grains (the largest I am confident I ever knew to pass through the Urethra), virtually ending his troubles, since which time any unusual symptoms have been relieved by the use of the water for a short time. Its action in this case has been indeed wonderful."

Uric Acid Gravel.

A Case stated by Dr. H. H. Walker, of Georgetown, S. C.

"Mr. George C. Congdon, of this place, suffering from Uric Acid Gravel, has been under my treatment for some time past. He had as many as six separate attacks (all of them of very great severity), between June the 25th and July the 16th, a space of eighteen days. He declined in flesh and strength rapidly, and to such an extent as to require the most careful nursing. Having exhausted all the most approved remedies of Materia Medica without beneficial results, I prescribed for him, as a last resort, Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No. 2, with the happiest effects. In a very short time after beginning its use, he passed a Calculus of Uric Acid, weighing six grains in weight, and has since, and is now, all appearance, entirely well."

At the bedside, the physician's first question is, "Are your bowels regular?" proving that their main business is to be kept in motion. If the bowels are not regular, the liver, which is the seat of the bile, cannot do its duty, and the system is deranged. Dr. Hodge's Female Tonic is a perfect remedy for all these troubles, and is a most valuable medicine. It is a food for the young and the old, and is a never-failing iron tonic and blood purifier. $1.00. Sold everywhere. Family Bibles and Bibles sent to any address. A. F. ### Buffalo Lithia Water

TAKES THE PLACE OF THE SURGEON'S KNIFE IN STONE OF THE BLADDER.

ITS VALUE IN BRIGHT'S DISEASE, THE GOUTY DIATHESIS, ETC.

Dr. Wm. A. Hammond, of New York, Surgeon General U. S. Army (retired), Professor of Diseases of the Mind and Nervous System in the University of New York, etc.

"I have for some time made use of the Buffalo Lithia Water in cases of affections of the Nervous System, complicated with Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, or with a Gouty Diathesis. The results have been entirely satisfactory. Lithia has for many years been a favorite remedy with me in like cases, but the Buffalo Lithia certainly acts better than any other preparation of Lithia Salts, and is, moreover, better borne by the stomach."

Stone in the Bladder (Uric Acid), Symptoms of Bright's Disease.

Case of Mrs. M. M. M., of New York, who was afflicted with Bright's Disease, followed after some time by Stone in the Bladder. Her limbs were very emaciated, so much so, as to pit pail on pressure with the finger, leaving an indentation, long after its removal. The urine was loaded with Uric Acid, and the kidneys were very inflamed. Having exhausted all the remedies, she was advised to use the Buffalo Lithia Water, and in a few weeks, in the passage of a stone, she was cured. The stone was removed, and the patient is now perfectly well. The Buffalo Lithia Water is a most valuable remedy in all cases of Bright's Disease, and is, moreover, better borne by the stomach."

MASSACHUSETTS had another mysterious murder—a woman being the victim. Right in the land of high moral ideas, this is rather discouraging.

MAD DOGS have become stale, and now we have anecdotes of mad mules, cows and horses. To one familiar with the subject the mad mule should not be a cause of surprise.

THE south is willing to compromise with the east if that section will manfully accept the inevitable, and move its mills down to the cotton fields. Instead of pleading with railroad companies for lower freights, they can avoid them altogether.

ST. SIMON'S island is one of those delightful spots where the traveler loves to turn aside and review the past. Under the beautiful shade of Wesley's tree, one can conjure up wonderful visions of what one earnest man can do. It is the Mecca to which all Georgians can go, and stand where stood the pilgrims of 1733.

THE communistic-Frenchman has had his holiday, sipped his cheap wine, sang the carmagnole, and relapsed into his dreamy state again. The troops had nothing to do in Paris on Sunday, and if it was not for the habitual nervousness of the government, it is doubtful if they would even be needed, if the people were just left alone.

SOUTHERN COMPETITION.

Five years ago THE CONSTITUTION, extending a cordial invitation to New England manufacturers to pack up their traps and settle in the virgin fields of the south, warned them that the day would speedily come when southern competition in the manufacture of the coarser cotton fabrics would give them considerable trouble. THE CONSTITUTION predicted, moreover, that in a thousand other directions, southern manufactures, small and modest at first, but continually growing in extent and importance, would meet New England on its own chosen ground and compete with it in its own markets. Some of the more enterprising northern capitalists concluded to look over the ground for themselves, while others contented themselves with asserting that cotton goods could not be profitably manufactured at the south, owing to the climate and the lack of expert operatives. This was Mr. Atkinson's theory, and, for a time, it was wonderfully consoling to New England. Many of those who looked over the ground for themselves made haste to invest, being convinced that in the manufacture of the coarser cotton fabrics the south was in a position to put down all competition.

The prediction of THE CONSTITUTION has been realized sooner than we expected. Southern competition has already become a matter for serious discussion, and the New England mills and their agents are stirring themselves to find some way out of the difficulty. Nothing more significant has lately appeared in print than the article which appeared in the news columns of THE CONSTITUTION last Saturday under the head of "Southern Competition," and its significance lies in the fact that while our New England friends have been giving the south tons and tons of advice in the newspapers, the south has been quietly engaged in cutting the ground from under New England's feet in the great west and northwest. The advice used to be "quit politics and go to work," but presently we shall hear in effect, if not in terms, that the south ought to quit work and go back to politics.

It seems that the New England mills have constituted various dry goods houses in the west and northwest agents for the sale of their shirtings and sheetings and other coarse fabrics. For some time these agents have been complaining of dull times. The goods of the New England mills have remained upon their counters unsold. This has been the situation for some time, but at last the agents of the New England mills have been brought face to face with the fact that southern fabrics have been making their way readily while the northern goods find comparatively small sale. This is due to the fact that southern goods can be sold at lower rates than northern goods, and at the same time leave the southern manufacturer a larger margin of profit.

The New York Times puts the whole matter in a nutshell when it says that it is a question of the future existence of the great cotton industries of the New England states. Georgia shirtings and sheetings can be laid down in the western markets at a less price than New England manufactures for the reason that Georgia has all the advantages of position which THE CONSTITUTION explained and insisted on five years ago, and to which it has frequently referred to since. The New England mills and their agents turn to the railroads for relief, but so far as transportation is concerned, the southern mills have every advantage the eastern mills have, and something more besides. The remedy is not with the railroads, nor in freight rates, for the southern roads are not likely to sit still and allow their freights to be run out of the west by a reduction of rates on northern lines, and they will promptly respond to any such reduction by reductions of their own.

What, then, is the remedy? Simply this: If New England men desire to continue in the business of manufacturing domestic goods they should give their machinery the advantage of position that Georgia and the south affords. Atlanta, we may say, is not pining for cotton mills. We prefer a half-dozen small industries to one cotton factory, but at the same time a cotton mill finds a warm welcome here, as in every part of the south. This is the only remedy that suggests itself.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

The secretary of the treasury will, it is reported, soon issue another bond call. The outstanding three and a half per cents now amount to only $30,000,000, and it is very probable that the last one of this class of bonds will be called before the end of the present fiscal year. Resort must then be had to the three per cents. These bonds now amount to $208,000,000, and as the three and a half per cents are still slowly coming for conversion into three per cents, the total may safely be put at $300,000,000.

After the three and a half per cents are called in, we have no bonds that can be called before 1891, but this $300,000,000 of 3 per cents. As congress reduced the appropriations fully as much as it did the revenue, and as the policy for the next fiscal year cannot well be changed, we must assume that there will be left at the end of the fiscal year 1883-84 not over $300,000,000 of bonds that can be called before 1891. Congress should, therefore, take steps next winter to bring the surplus revenue of the government, including the sinking fund, down to about $300,000,000 a year. To take more than this from the people would be folly and inexcusable oppression. The people are not able to pay war taxes any longer, and there is no reason why they should be taxed to redeem that portion of the debt which should be paid by those who are enjoying the blessings of the government in the last years of this decade. Let every year have its proper burden, and the democratic party should take position firmly against taxation that brings in beyond the needs of the government, more than $300,000,000 a year.

After 1891 we can redeem $250,000,000 of 4½ per cents, and when these bonds are called in there will also remain of the interest-bearing debt the 4 per cents, of which there are $749,000,000 outstanding. The four per cents are not redeemable until 1897. We could in the meanwhile, it is true, redeem the greenbacks and other portions of the non-interest-bearing debt, and this will be urged upon the treasury department if the revenue is permitted to outrun the bonds that are redeemable.

NOTES OF NEW BOOKS.

AMERICAN LAW STUDIES; or Self Preparation for Practice. A course of instruction, leading and exercises for Students and Young Lawyers, by which they can thoroughly and rapidly train themselves for legal business. By John C. Reed, Boston: Little, Brown & Co. Atlanta: Holman, Coffin & Co.

The success of this book, during the brief period it has been before the public, is exceptional so far as the critics are concerned. The worthy tribe, uncertain, and hard to please, has given the volume unstinted praise. Atlanta and THE CONSTITUTION have a natural and reasonable interest in this success, for Mr. Reed is a member of the Atlanta bar. Apart from this, however, we can most heartily recommend Mr. Reed's book to every young man who desires to become a lawyer, and to the personal of every lawyer, old or young, who has genuine interest in his profession. The great majority of the students of the law have no opportunity to attend the law schools, but the conscientious student will find in this book all the instruction that the schools impart, and something more besides, namely: the results of careful, scholarly thought; the most attainable ideas; a brilliant but earnest mind. Mr. Reed marks out for the student a thorough, systematic, simple course of reading and study which cannot fail in making a good lawyer provided the aspirant is possessed of the requisite ability and aptitude. The practitioner will find the volume valuable in his comment upon the various text books. The law critic of the Boston Advertiser says: "It is giving high praise, but, in our judgment, not too high praise, to Mr. Reed's book. In importance this has scarcely a more gratifying success in this effort, and has given to those who desire to qualify themselves for the practice of the law, the means of acquiring with comparative ease a most valuable instruction which would otherwise, in many cases, have to be gained by the practical knowledge, by experiment upon the lack of clients, which, however instructive to the lawyer, are often inordinately expensive and sometimes even dangerous to the student. We should like to see this work and Professor Robinson's 'Elementary Law' put into the hands of every law student."

THE CORRESPONDENCE OF THOMAS CARLYLE AND RALPH WALDO EMERSON, 1834-1872. Two volumes. Boston: James R. Osgood & Co. Atlanta: Holman, Coffin & Co.

The publication of this correspondence cannot be otherwise described than as a remarkable literary event. The letters that passed between these two master minds of their time cover a period of thirty-eight years, and they possess an importance that can hardly be measured. Several years ago this correspondence was placed in the hands of Mr. Charles Eliot Norton, who has edited them for the press. Mr. Norton has set an example to all future editors of letters and other literary remains. He comes upon the stage in a brief prefatorial note, and then disappears behind the scenes. He is in charge of footnotes and explanations, and yet he contrives to make everything clear and easy and plain. Carlyle and Emerson were little dangerous to each other, but it is curious to watch the contest between the two great minds as it is carried on and developed in this correspondence. Carlyle, with no symptom of intolerance, protesting against the trim, smiling serenity of Emerson, and Emerson, with cute yankee persistence, endeavoring to reform the uncouth complexity of the grim British humorist. What effect Emerson had upon Carlyle we need not stop to discuss, but the probabilities are that Carlyle's influence kept Emerson on the safe and reasonable side of transcendentalism.

A HISTORY OF THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES, from the revolution to the civil war. By John Bach McMaster. Vol. 1. New York: D. Appleton & Co.

This work is to be completed in five volumes, and if the other four are at all comparable to the volume just issued in point of sustained interest, the result will be one of the most remarkable histories ever written. Of political histories of the United States we have had a surfeit, and the shelves of the book stores are filled with one-sided histories of the war, written either from a sectional or a personal point of view. All these have their uses as works of reference, but here is a history that promises to have for the student, as well as the general reader, an interest that will increase and deepen as the years go by. The author in his opening chapter declares that the history of the people shall be his chief theme. He will write much of wars and conspiracies, of congresses, presidents, ambassadors, of the ambitions of great political leaders and of the rise of great parties, but to write the history of the people themselves, their progress and development, he is more than intellectually in his main purpose. The first volume comes fully up to the somewhat rhetorical promise of the prospectus, and, from the first chapter to the last, it is a volume of remarkable interest.

ANIMAL INTELLIGENCE. By George J. Romanes, M. A., LL. D., F. R. S. International Scientific Series. New York: D. Appleton & Co. Atlanta: Holman, Coffin & Co.

This volume, which treats in an anecdotal way, of the intelligence of insects and animals, is of the groundwork and forerunner of a treatise in course of preparation by the author, and is a most valuable work. He has merely made a systematic arrangement of various facts in regard to animal intelligence, which are avouched by responsible observers. Some of these are familiar to the readers of the newspapers, but all possess a curious interest, which has been greatly increased by recent scientific investigations. The volume is interesting simply as an accurate classification of certain facts in nature, but this interest is intensified, as the author is so clearly and intelligently developed, and in this shape, they give to the general reader a view of the personality of the poet as vivid as it is new.

HE DIDN'T TEAR IT DOWN. Curled with a fine disdain of all things southern. Even the universal homage then being paid to Governor Stephens for it was the funeral day—did not soften him. The misanthropic spirit of the yankee and the peevishness of the pie-eating dyspeptic was abroad in him and he was bent on correcting something.

"What's this?" he suddenly asked, angrily, stopping in front of Burke's old book store. "The 'slowly' and the 'propagator,' who was leading against the doorway," he said, pointing at Alec Stephens, with confederate and United States flag draped and crossed above it. "Well, sir, that's a disgrace to this great country, and it ought to be torn down!"

POLITICAL NOTES.

It is said that ex-Governor Long, Massachusetts's foremost republican, is swinging around towards Butlerism.

THE Philadelphia Record mentions that while the members of the nobility are scarce in Pennsylvania, "we have more Dukes than we want."

GOVERNOR WALLER, of Connecticut, confined his fast-day proclamation for Friday of this week (Good Friday) to the space of five and a half lines.

THE Nebraska legislature has just passed a bill providing that one of two assistant physicians of the state asylum for the insane shall be a woman. They hold their terms for six years.

It is hoped that Kaiser Wilhelm will be able to celebrate next Thursday, his eighty-sixth birthday, by laying the foundation stone of the new palace of the imperial parliament in Berlin.

THE Princess Louise is very glad that her husband's term as governor general of Canada will expire next autumn, and has already directed that apartments in Kensington palace be put in order.

MR. NELSON of the Pennsylvania senate has introduced a bill, with a whereas about the furnaces near Washington in the state, which forbids cremation. The Philadelphia medical student should have a chance.

THE Webster Historical society of Massachusetts has been presented with one original photograph of Daniel Webster and a lock of his hair, which were among the few prized treasures of a late baronet at a Boston hotel.

IF the republican party could show as many aggressive leaders in the house this year as it possessed in 1879, it would be in a very fortunate position. But it cannot. In fact, that party has not put strong men where they would do the most good.

LITURGICAL booms born in the legislature are not always conspicuous by their absence. The latest one comes from Columbus, where there is talk of running John Sherman for governor of Ohio. If he should succeed, the politicians would expect him to loom up as a presidential candidate. The subject is abroad that senator Sherman's looming days are past.

THE story that a military force was going out to the Congo in Sir Stanley's case is denied by the Figaro, and was discredited by the general who would do him with his courtesy and gallantry, which for him the regard of all with whom he brought in contact. He is frequently everywhere throughout the state would be highly gratified with his elevation to the governorship, and would regard his selection as a guarantee that the government would be conducted on business principles and with an eye single to the welfare of the whole people. His nomination would command the respect and approval of the democratic party, and would be a general recognition of the claims of this section of the state. We suggest Mr. J. St. John, simply as presenting for the high office all the qualifications that can be required, and we include the hope that his merits will be recognized.

EX-SENATOR THURMAN makes the largest property return in Columbus, Ohio.

THE late William E. Dodge is to be honored by a bronze statue, to be erected by New York merchants.

THE statistics of last year's crime show that thirteen persons were killed by broom handles wielded by women, and yet Susan B. Anthony goes to Europe for encouragement.

It is a singular commentary on the superstition which regards the opal as unlucky that the stone has always been a favorite with Queen Victoria, while on the other hand the ex-Empress Eugenie, who was so much devoted to the opal, never wore it.

PROFESSOR BLACKIE once chafed on his notice-board in college: "The professor is unable to meet his classes to-morrow." A wagish student removed the "c" leaving "lasses." When the professor returned to the notice-board, he found it equal to the occasion, the professor quietly rubbed out the "l," and joined in the hearty laughter of the students.

CAPTAIN BOYCOTT a few years ago dared not go outside of his grounds without a body guard. He made a visit to America, and finding no place like home, returned to his Boycotted house and set about the work of making his peace with the people. He honestly and bravely met the people, and in the end he is now free to go where he pleases without police protection.

PEOPLE who are growing impatient at the progress made in the star-note trial should not fret. Mr. Bliss, in opening the case, made a statement of what the government expected to prove, and that statement occupies 12 closely printed pages. With so much to prove and so many obstacles in the way it would not really be surprising if proceedings dragged, even if so many lawyers were not paid in proportion to the number of days consumed in the trial.

MRS SARAH BROWN, daughter of "Old John Brown," has been appointed to a position in the United States mint at San Francisco. John Brown, the oldest son, a man of 63, strong and vigorous, lives at Put-in-Bay, Lake Erie. With him resides Owen Brown, a younger son, who was killed by his father when the latter made his attack on Harper's Ferry. A daughter, named Ruth Thompson, lives near by, and another son, Jason, resides at Akron, Ohio. Mrs. Brown lives in California.

The church statistics of Richmond, Va., foot up 30,610 members, gathered in fifty-seven churches. Of these 12,191 are colored baptists.

THE largest fruit seller in New Orleans, on being asked what became of all the cocoa nut shells, replied that he sent annually 1,000,000 to New York to be ground into pepper.

BOYNTON AND BACON.

REINFORCED BY HON. HENRY D. MCDANIEL.

With Prospects of a Little Attention From Mayor Lester, of Savannah—Bacon County Declares for Bacon and Fayette Counties Delegates—Expressions of Opinion.

Two more counties have spoken—Bacon giving Bacon her two votes, and Fayette adding her two to Boynton's column, making the race stand Boynton four, Bacon two. A great majority of the county conventions will be heard from on the third of April, and as the result happens to fall on that day it is likely to remain in the convention. It is semi-officially stated that Hon. Henry D. McDaniel is formally in the race for governor, while the Savannah News, in behalf of Chatham, strongly urges the claims of Mayor Rufus E. Lester of that county. The past year has been a lucky one for mayors, and Savannah feels hopeful accordingly.

Among the Candidates.

HON. H. D. MCDANIEL, IN THE RACE. MCDANIEL, March 19.—Hon. H. D. McDaniel stated to two gentlemen of Athens to-day that he was a candidate for governor.

PROBABLE TO SEE ECKLEY BEN. TALLADEMA, March 19.—The mountaineers say that Judge Eckley is the next best man in Georgia to Mr. Stephens, and that on him the deceased governor's mantle should fall.

AND WHY NOT?

From the Pleading County News. The first thing you know Atlanta will be trotting out John H. James or George W. Adair for the unexpired term.

MAJOR LESTER'S CLAIMS SET FORTH. From the Savannah News.

On the 10th day of April next the democratic party of Georgia, through its representatives in convention assembled, will select a candidate for governor to fill the vacancy now existing in the executive office. This far but two gentlemen named for the position exhibit any marked strength. It is quite likely, however, that others will enter the field, and that there will be a contest more or less spirited for the choice of the convention. We accordingly suggest pleasure in suggesting as the successor of the distinguished executive a gentleman well known to the people of Georgia and everywhere respected for his ability, integrity and worth. We allude to the Hon. Rufus E. Lester, so long the honored president of the state senate and at present the popular and excellent mayor of Savannah. In view of the high trust of the governorship Mr. Lester is the peer of any Georgian that could be named. His services to the state have been of a high order, and his elevation to the governorship has contributed largely to the welfare of the commonwealth. An able lawyer, a thorough business man, a close observer of the times—intellectually he is admirably qualified for the position, which he would adorn with his courtesy and gallantry, which for him the regard of all with whom he brought in contact. He is frequently everywhere throughout the state would be highly gratified with his elevation to the governorship, and would regard his selection as a guarantee that the government would be conducted on business principles and with an eye single to the welfare of the whole people. His nomination would command the respect and approval of the democratic party, and would be a general recognition of the claims of this section of the state. We suggest Mr. J. St. John, simply as presenting for the high office all the qualifications that can be required, and we include the hope that his merits will be recognized.

DELEGATES SELECTED. RABUN GAP, March 19.—At a meeting of the citizens of Rabun county to-day, at Clayton, W. A. Curtis and Jesse W. Green were selected as delegates to the state convention and instructed for A. O. Bacon, W. M. McKel and J. C. Cameron were elected alternates.

FAYETTEVILLE FOR BOYNTON. FAYETTEVILLE, March 19.—The executive committee held here to-day under a call of the county executive committee of the county, Fayette county selected delegates who favor the nomination of John H. Boynton. There is great enthusiasm here for Boynton.

CONVENTIONS CALLED. SUMNER FOR THE THIRD. AMERICUS, March 19.—The democratic executive committee of this county have called a county convention for April 3 to send delegates to Atlanta.

ATHENS, March 19.—The chairman of the democratic committee has called a county convention for April 3.

MARIETTA, COB COUNTY'S PRINCIPAL. MARIETTA, March 19.—The executive committee to-day ordered an election on the 27th inst. for delegates to the convention. It was decided not to hold the district elections, but to have the polls open only at Marietta.

THOMASVILLE, March 19.—Judge J. W. Lawson, chairman of the democratic executive committee of this county, has ordered a meeting to be held by the democratic county convention on the 27th inst. for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend the gubernatorial convention in Atlanta on the 10th day of April. Green will send a copy of this to the county. The farmers all through the county are in favor of the election of Mr. Boynton to the governorship.

INTERVIEWS.

The comedian, Mr. Milton Nobles, appeared at Delvive's opera house last night, and produced his play "Interviews." It has been rewritten and condensed, lost some of its redundancy and some of its exaggerations have been cut off, still some of it, particularly the second act is rather long and somewhat tiresome. The plot is not much in itself, and lacks point and continuity; the situations are forced and exaggerated, yet the play has snap and brightness.
The third act is the scene in the sanctum, is absurd and unreal, yet it is highly amusing. As "Qualified Interviewer," Mr. Nobles was natural throughout.
An interviewer with a vivid imagination, a creature of circumstances, at home in every phase of society, genial, well-souled, brainy, always ready to write on art, literature, ethics, politics, religion, science, to do a dog fight, a home race, a political meeting, or the completest society effusion; in fact, he was an easy, natural and first-rate newspaper reporter. His dialogue was terse, snappy and full of life, and in good taste. The support of Mr. Nobles is creditable and well balanced. Brough-out, Alonzo wants still maintain his hold upon amusement loving people by laugh provoking comedy. To-night the "Phonix" will be produced.
It is undoubtedly the best play of the company, and in it Mr. Nobles displays his talent to the best advantage. Doubtless a large audience will be present, as it will serve to fill up an evening very pleasantly.

A $10,000 Romance!

A true romance in real life recently took place in Louisville, Kentucky. The circumstanes were these: Miss Alice Vandercort, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of our well known and esteemed druggist, had a well known young gentleman, also of Louisville, paying her attentions and both being possessed of speculative spirit, and unknown to the other, purchased a $1 ticket in the Commonwealth Distribution company. It so happened that each took a half ticket with the same number, and when the drawing terminated they had drawn $5,000 each, their number having drawn the $10,000 prize. When the young gentleman called to tell his good fortune, his surprise was great to find his sweetheart was also entitled to congratulations.
Of course, a wedding soon followed, for it was self evident they were intended for each other, and the young gentleman is now the owner of a prosperous business, and at his request, we refrain from giving his name also. Now let our young gentlemen and ladies go and do likewise. Next drawing, Saturday, March 31st, 1883, prizes, $12,000 Capital prize, $30,000. Tickets only $2. Send your order immediately to R. M. Boardman, Louisville, Kentucky.
